

(Dublin, March 1. 1853)

28

My dear Garrison

If this now reaches you it will be handed to you by my friend Doctor Reinhold Solger, a German political refugee and "man of letters" who visited Dublin a few months since and whose company I enjoyed personally & thoroughly. He is about to seek his fortune in the United States. I have introduced him to James Holt in Philadelphia, S. A. Fair in New York, and if he visits Boston I hope he will see you. Perhaps you would make him acquainted with Phillips & Quincy as one in whom personally I feel much interest and say that any kindness or advice he may be favored with I will look on as conferred on myself.

Dr. Hilger is an able lecturer & a gentleman of no common attainments - and in such a wide field as your country presents I think he cannot fail, with his talent and learning, to secure both respect and independence.

With best wishes for yourself & family, I remain your ever affectionately

Rich^d D Webb

My family and your other friends live as much as you saw them in fair health - but nearly 7 years older. Oh! how time flies!